Executive Proclamation

Office of the Governor

Whereas, South Dakota was founded with hard work, perseverance, dedication to duty and concern for one's fellow man; and,

Whereas, Cynthia Raysor and her husband, James or known to many as "JR", found their way to this great state, leaving their native state of Pennsylvania behind; and,

Whereas, Cindy has been employed by the South Dakota Bureau of Finance and Management and has worked under the direction of four commissioners over the past 23½ years; and,

Whereas, Cindy has also worked side-by-side with James building a successful family-owned business, "Jakes"; and,

Whereas, Cindy has been actively involved in community projects and activities, loves to bowl, golf, and play volleyball, where her teammates affectionately refer to her as "Cindy-the club-Raysor"; and,

Whereas, Cindy and JR have made a decision to move further west to the Deadwood area to pursue new employment opportunities, and to be closer to their daughter, Tonya, and her family, therefore, Cindy's last official day with the Bureau of Finance and Management will be April 2, 2004; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper as Governor to make special note of Cindy's commitment to our state and the community of Pierre, and wish her and JR a bright and successful future:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim April 2, 2004, as

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Thirtieth Day of March in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Four.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State
